

Easter Millinery.
Other stores are saying "We keep the finest hats made."
We don't—
We sell them.

Saturday Evening Sale of Kid Gloves.

On Saturday evening, March 29th, commencing at 7.30 o'clock, we will place on sale several dozen of fine quality French Kid Gloves at the very low price of 50 CENTS A PAIR.

The lot will consist of gloves now selling at 75c, $1.00 and $1.25 a pair, in colors and black. We have not all colors nor all sizes in any one kind, but all sizes and all shades are represented in the lot. We will show them in our window two or three days previous to the sale. This sale coming at the very time that Kid Gloves are most wanted makes a splendid opportunity for the careful buyer.

The demand for New Spring Millinery has opened with a rush, everyone anxious to get their new hat for Easter. We have a large staff of Millinery experts doing their best to turn out the rush orders. Millinery was never prettier than it is this season. The grown people have lost the monopoly of pretty things as lots of taking styles have been provided for the little folks.

Our Dress Trimmings Have Arrived.

The ship that brought them from Germany (the S. S. Neckar) was over three weeks disabled on the ocean. We were sorry to keep our customers waiting, but "accidents" will happen. We have three hundred and fifteen pieces of Gimp and Applique to select from. This promises to be the greatest person on record for such a time and day.

White and Cream Gimps and Appliques from the narrow silk edging at 5 cents, to the embroidered beauties around the collar, mark.

Black Jet in the round, cut and sequin styles from 5 cents to $3.00 a yard.

Black Silk Braiding and Cord combined with Chiffon and Net, 30 cents to 90 cents a yard.

Black Silk Embroidery in floral and scroll designs up to $1.25 a yard.

Coming direct from the makers our prices cannot be beaten.

25c. Neckwear for 15c. We have just received to dozen Men's Bow Ties, made with the shield for the high-turn-down collar. These have been made from the ends of silk left from making 50c flowing ends and now are alike. We will sell them while they last at 15c each or 2 for 25c. What a chance, just when bows are all the go?

Fine Ordered Clothing.

James Walters, Cutter. Here are two simple rules for sensible clothes-buying: 1. get satisfaction; 2. don't pay too much for it. What suits somebody else might not suit you. In making clothes we always have in mind the most exacting and particular type, with the idea that what satisfies them ought to satisfy anybody.

First, get satisfaction. You must know the difference between what you like and what you need. You must know what clothes are that are worth what they cost. Second, perfect fit; the clothes must look right as well as be right. Third, good service; which means we must not just lasting a long time; you may not want to wear a suit two or three seasons, but you want it to keep shape while you do wear it. That's what we mean by "good service." You'll get it only from first-class trimming, fabrics, linings and most of all first-rate tailoring. You get them here without paying too much for them.

We do not particularize our stock as it would take up too much space. Since it to say that our stock of New Spring Fancy and Plain suits are the most complete in this part of the province. We make suits to order from $1.00 up. We solicit your order. Samples and self-measurement blanks sent on application.

THE pain and localized conditions are the result of constitutional conditions. Poisoned blood sends its evil influence to various parts of the body, and no cure is permanent, unless you treat the constitutionally. Nothing so completely discharges these poisons from the system as Ferrerone. It makes new blood. It imparts vitality and vigor, enabling the system to throw off the poisons that engender rheumatism. Weak?

"I suffered terribly and was extremely weak for 12 years. The doctor said my blood was all running away. At last I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was soon feeling all right again."

No matter how long you have been ill, nor how poorly you may feel, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine you can take for purifying and enriching the blood. Don't doubt it, put your whole trust in it, throw away everything else.

It is a safe, reliable, and certain remedy. Ask your doctor what the condition of your blood is, and he will tell you. Write to J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

The Robinson Co. Store News.

Napanee

Our money is returnable if you want it, and it is our part to see that the goods are the kind that you'll want to keep, not send back. It makes us careful. It makes you feel safe.

Several desirable and scarce shades of dress materials arrived Monday. The French Greys, Bisque, Cadet Greens and Tans are represented in such fashionable weaves as Crepeoline, Etoile, Voiles, Poplin de Soies and various high weight thin materials that are so much called for. We have trimmings for all our dress goods. Over three hundred patterns in applique to select from.

For good business reasons we will clear all our $2.00 Band I. Corsets at $1.25 a pair. The sizes we have are as follows: White sizes 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25. Dress sizes 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28. This Corset is a correct fitting straight front corset, and $2.00 is the maker's price stamped on the inside of every pair. Coming at the height of the dress-making season this is a splendid chance to secure a perfect corset for the new season, for after all a good Corset is the beginning of a perfect gown.

There are so many pretty separate skirts used nowadays that nice waist materials are much wanted. LUSTRE is pretty when made from creases, it is navy and the grey shades.

BEFORE COR—We show this in the plain cream and also with the black dot on cream grounds.

VELOURS—A velvet finished cashmere takes the machine work readily and looks very nice in the light delicate shades such as biscuit, old rose, pink, blue, etc.

SILK MUSLINS have a great showing with us and look to be at demand in the handsome Dolly Varden designs.

LENO BATISTE is a dainty waisting and looks well in greens, primrose and blues.

Women's Walking Skirts. It is more difficult to make a short waister skirt long well than it is a long skirt. The long skirt has the support given by touching and the flare spreads gracefully.

AT 5.00—Handsome circular skirt, cut all in one piece, trimmed with beautiful machine cord; black, grey, navy. Made of all wool chevots.

AT 4.50—made of unputtable black broadcloth, flare trimmed skirt of ten rows cording and braid.

AT 9.50—Handsome Venetian cloth, lined, trimmed with elaborate silk stitched applique work, black only.

"Canada First"

Canadian soldiers in South Africa don't take a back seat. Delaney must have wondered what was the matter at Hart's River. The of the Canadian force, pitted against seven times their number, made the Boer conscious that he was up against it. Yes, it was a bit of CANADA which largely influenced in turning the tide to victory at HART'S RIVER. For conspicuous bravery CANADA was FIRST.

"NO SURRENDER"

CANADA takes no back seat in the manufacture of Footwear. Some people think if a Boot is only labelled the style and quality must be right. Distance lends enchantment. Let us inform the reader that nearly all Ladies' Footwear imported from U. S. are McKay machine sewed goods, and sold in Canada for $3.75 and $4.00. Whereas genuine Goodyear Welts are EQUAL TO ANY HAND MADE WORK, AS WELL FINISHED, OF CANADIAN MAKE, AND NO DUTY TO PAY—are sold for $3.00, $3.25 and $3.50. Ask to See our Genuine Goodyear Welts at $2.50 $3.00 and $3.50, and see if Canada is not First.

Do You Want a Low Shoe, neat and good? or a heavier Walking Shoe? or Boot for farm, factory or school? or a Trunk? Well, look us up. Our Prices and Quality are Right. We know it and we want you to know.

A Small-Pox Scare.

Over two weeks ago Mr. D. Powell, a commercial traveler from Montreal, visited the Paisley House one night, and was entertained. He was in the best of health, and there were indications of amnesia in his case. To the credit of Mr. Douglas, the proprietor, and the town authorities, prompt action was taken to remove any possible harm from contagion. The house was at once closed to the public, and the necessary health notices were posted outside.

Arrangements were also made for the removal of Mr. Powell to a common tent in an isolated situation on Roblin's hill, and a physician arranged with him to remain consistently with him as an attendant, who kept themselves well isolated from the rest of the townpeople. Those who were in attendance at the house, and also a number of the boarders whom it was thought might have been possibly exposed, were also quarantined as soon as it was deemed necessary and made comfortable in the new ward at the Commercial Hotel.

Mr. Powell, where all their wants and necessities were taken care of, and they were well looked after by the nursing staff. They were all thus carefully guarded, and they all recovered, and no case of disease among them, or any evidence whatever that any of them had any exacting touch of contagion.

The case of Mr. Powell on Wednesday evening last, and all in excellent health, was the result of the precautionary steps taken to prevent the possibility of any harm from contagion.

There were fifteen ladies and gentlemen who were the Paisley House at the time they were exposed to the disease. They were Misses Ida Parke, Mary McCham, Mary Macdonald, Green, Lloyd and

Parsons, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCham, George, William, Mr. Cox, David, G. E. Hamilton, D. Powell, D. W. W. Chalmers, and others.

They all recovered, and no case of disease among them, or any evidence whatever that any of them had any exacting touch of contagion.

They all recovered, and no case of disease among them, or any evidence whatever that any of them had any exacting touch of contagion.

The case of Mr. Powell on Wednesday evening last, and all in excellent health, was the result of the precautionary steps taken to prevent the possibility of any harm from contagion.

There were fifteen ladies and gentlemen who were the Paisley House at the time they were exposed to the disease. They were Misses Ida Parke, Mary McCham, Mary Macdonald, Green, Lloyd and

Parsons, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCham, George, William, Mr. Cox, David, G. E. Hamilton, D. Powell, D. W. W. Chalmers, and others.

IM. WORTH

he said that there is no such thing as fashion, that each woman would wear what most suited her figure, complexion, height, etc., she would be well dressed and in style.

The Hats for Young Men and Old Men.

In our stock you will find just the hat that suits you and at a far less price than you expected to pay for it. Wakefield hats—soft and Derby's—the best hat in the market—can be bought only here in Naperville.

Soft hats, all colors, from 50 cts. up to $3.50 each.

Derby Hats, $1.00, $2.00 and $2.25. We will be pleased to show you all the new shapes and colors.

Straw Hats

For men and boys. We have just opened up four large cases of men's and boys' latest straw hats. These goods came direct from the manufacturers and are all up-to-date as any you will find in the cities.

Boy's range in price from 20c. up to $1.00.

Men's Top Shirts.

Never before has the sale of ready-to-wear top shirts been so heavy. When you find you can get a shirt well made, good strong and well shaped for the same money as you can for the material, you wonder how it can be done. It is in the very large quantities counts.

Oxford shirting, blue denim, blue pique, dot, black slateen, and other lines at 50¢ and 60¢. Better qualities at 75¢ and $1.00. The 50¢ shirts will give you a surprise when you see them.

Men's Overalls and Smocks

Still another shipment from the manufacturer this week. Also another lot of the very strong and well made Moleskin pants at $1.00 from the W. E. Sanford Manufacturing Co. We thought we purchased enough for the whole season but had to reorder almost before the season was well started. Overalls and smocks from 50 cts. up to $1.00.

FIT AND FABRIC

Modern ideas incline to the manufacturing of things in lots. The ready-made suit is an evidence of this, but gentlemen now, as in the old days, want their clothes made to order, and for their individuality.

We make garments which set off all the best points of the wearer. Our range of Spring Suits is sure to please you in pattern, quality and price. We make good clothing and use the best trimmings. We guarantee satisfaction in every respect.

"Try us for your Spring Suit."

BOYS' READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING.

We carry the largest range of Boys' and Youths' Clothing shown in this section. We buy from good reliable manufacturers, and that insures our customers satisfaction. You will want a new Spring Suit for that boy of yours.

Our range is large, the clothing is stylish, and prices the lowest. Your inspection invited.

We are always pleased to show goods.

EDITORIAL--HOUSECLEANING

RAILWAY SUBSIDIES

The Beaver, as our readers well know, has been raising its voice in protest for some time past against the Government system of fairly absorbing out of pocket the railway corporations by the million dollars. It is a good sign that the time has come when the M.P. for Lennox in the House of Commons, has publicly declared that he is in opposition to the whole system. Both our party candidates for the Ontario Legislature have also declared themselves against the system of the most decisive language. Another significant indication that the time for a change in these matters has come is this referred to in The Star:

"The announcement is made that no railway subsidies will be voted at Ottawa this year. This is indeed good news, and we hope that the announcement will prove correct. It is a very good sign that the reason why the subsidies are withheld is because the Government fears the effect which the announcement of a such a radical change might have upon the prospects of the liberal party in the approaching election. It is a very good sign that the reason why the subsidies are withheld is because the Government fears the effect which the announcement of a such a radical change might have upon the prospects of the liberal party in the approaching election."

Mr. F. W. Meyers, King St. E., Berlin, Minn., says: "I suffered for five years with palpitation, shortness of breath, restlessness and pain in the heart, but the box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills completely removed all these distressing symptoms. I have not suffered since taking them, and now sleep well and feel strong and vigorous."

and hunger for a sight of his face.
He has not asked him to dine or even hinted a wish that he may come unless his inclinations bring him. It is only a letter of love, of tender reproach, and their interview was so short, and the effect of poor unlucky sudden seizure.

"I know you will feel for me, dearest," concludes this gentle little November letter, "and I am sure that the conduct has been from faultless conduct, and I am sure that I am containing not one word of reproach, expressed or implied - "you know my uncle was like a father to me."

CHAPTER XXXIII.

"Things," might have been pro-

"as they were." Mrs. Sargent is sitting in those self-satisfied tones of triumph, as Yolande slowly enters the room. "It's a cruel thing now that I think of it, but I haven't a rag on her in the shape of a good-for-nothing fine penmanship. — Oh, my goodness. You thought I brought you're given me! I thought you were in bed and asleep long ago, child."

"What reason had you to think so, Mrs. Sargent?" Yolande asks gravely.

And Mrs. Sargent's eyelids, with their scanty lashes, blink nervously beneath the cold light of the dark arched eyes.

"Well, my dear, I'm only afraid I told youself-up," she says, in a conciliating tone, fidgeting a little; "and—and—you may be a good deal to try you yet, Mr. —" to time is exorcising pitying, and Sargent's beamed face is full of soft nature and sympathy; but Yoko is too resentful of her woman's love sympathy to care even to sit at her feet. She has to wait. When she grows angry, as her mother speaks, she grows angrier.

Sit in this chair, cousin, won't you," he says, pumping up and drawing a large easy chair forward. "It's the best chair in the room, I think," he told she how many times to light the lamp before she went to bed—wasn't a good thought! One gets so chilly sitting up on the turn of the night."

"I'm sorry, you and aunt told both things it necessary to sit up and lose you; night's rest," she responds stiffly. "I am quite a man, thank you, I do not care to so near the fire."

They have been speaking against me, they have both of them. The first was the Sargent against me at Dallas Glynne? The girl with the heart beats fierce, angry, desolve. They shall see, within twenty-four hours they shall see. I shall be here until poor Silas recovers! Get your glasses, glasses of wine, to me, Mrs. Sargent says in a commination to you. You decline to do so. You say, "My maid brought me a cup of a little while since." A glass of wine would have done as much more good, and I shall be drinking it. You better have one now, You are a glass of good port. No! Very

"My dear," if you won't, you must, then—that's all," said the mother, and she gave her several minutes of the most earnest and eloquent exhortations, and Yolande fanned the tears from her eyes, and her mother and aunt exchanging glances.

"Your poor uncle has had a great deal of trouble and worry and better come home, my dear, sooner than of any kind or another lately, I'm afraid, Yolande, my dear," she began hesitatingly.

"Yolande, slim and straight, and with a cascade in her clinging dark hair, and her gown standing scornfully about her ankles, and still, looking at her mother, she is almost afraid of what she is going to say to me," she thinks, her face curling beneath her dark, fastidiously curled hair, grown so hard and white with the fierce growth of the last winter in the battle of a hard resolve. "It is ...going to dare to take me to task for my husband's death?"

—there's the blame to be laid on some one's door—and great blame —there's no use in saying: there —; it isn't as if people got no sense, nor warning, nor anything."
"Said she," began her vexatious plaintiff—fault finding tone, purring mouth up and shaking her head.
"Well, never mind that now, mother. Without interferences in a low degree, it was a tragedy and a crime at Yolande. "It's too late to blame one now." "Is" Mrs. Sargent resides in a warmer tone, tossing her head, and with a look of self-sufficiency, as if she had been the one to avoid, but to avoid hurting

"What on earth are you talking about, aunt Sargent?" she demanded with frigid contempt. "I have a dy Norm is a very nice woman; I feel a very sensible lady, I feel she and she will be willing to do whatever is best for all parties. "She'll have to do it—that's one comfort!" Mrs. Sargent retorts grimly. "There will be no more money now to fling away on fine ladies or at this point Yolande gets up, quickly and goes towards the door. "Now, Yolande, you're not to take any more of my money," she says, "because I'm plain and outspok— I don't feel for you!" Mrs. Sarrasin explains reproachfully. But Yolande does not seem to heed her words. She reaches her hands in her own room, and seeks the door. She opens it, and looks out with her own burning eyes in her toilet-mirror and try to realize this terrible calamity that has fallen on her. "Oh, for this time, for this time, for this time, that pale forlorn face in the glass," she thinks and is aware that she is parted still—parted for an indefinite time—perhaps forever from the life of the rich, from the money and luxury—yet by this she seeks him to give up his situation come back to me! I don't want to be married to a woman like you! I am proud too. I won't ask to come back to me when I give him nothing but myself. I want to love you again," the girl said so meekly, "only had those few happy minutes with you to make me hungry and thirsty for you. I want to come back to me, Dallas. If you come back, it will be of your own free will and not for me; and you will never is sick.

She will hurt and insult her cruel mother. "I don't think," growing brave and resolute for the defence of Dallas' mother, "unless I prevent her."

She sits down to wait in the dark breakfast room at the end of the hall, and after a time she hears carriage draw up, and a loud rattle and ring resound through the house.

"Oh, oh!" Mrs. Sarient says.

She looks like the daintiest and most the eastern stage scene.

She is exceedingly pretty and start-

"Well, how can you wound me?" she says, in a cold sneering tone. "It is good that you are a widow, my dear! You get rid of husband—my poor son—very

"I am sure that you, his wife, who I consider him first of any one in the world, have put it out of your head to help him in any way I can. I am sure that you are in his proper position," Lady Lacy bitterly. "I see no hope but to struggle on for the rest of his life."

"You are wrong," Yolande asked her, and breathing fast. "I know Dallas had returned to me surprised."

SUDDEN DEATH.

The announcement of the death of Mr. Richard Dinnor, nearly past middle age, was a shock and surprise to every one. He had been in apparent good health up to the time of his death, and the cause of death was not known. He was a native of Ontario, and had been in Napane for many years. He was a member of the Baptist Church, and was a very kind and generous man. He was married, and had several children. His death was a great loss to his family and to the community.

THE MARRIAGE OF J. J. HILL, D. D. S.

CARSCALLEN RALLY.

A FINE POLITICAL GATHERING.

One of the largest political gatherings ever held in the opera house assembled last Friday night to hear the leader of the Opposition, Mr. H. P. Whitney, and those who were to address the meeting. The hall was jammed with people, and the atmosphere was very exciting. Mr. Whitney made a very able and interesting speech, and his audience was very responsive. The rally was a great success, and it was a fine political gathering.

Brontitis

"I have kept Ayer's Cherry Food in my house for a great many years. It is the best medicine for the world for coughs and colds."
J. C. Williams, Andover, N. Y.

All serious lung troubles begin with a tickling in the throat. You can stop this at first with a single night with Ayer's Cherry Food. Use it also for bronchitis, consumption, bad colds, and for coughs of all kinds.

It is the best medicine for the world for coughs and colds. It is the best medicine for the world for coughs and colds. It is the best medicine for the world for coughs and colds.
